DIA tour 1/16/16

Today I learned that the run way is 200 feet wide and 1600 feet (3 miles long). I also learned that the control tower is 16 stories (327 ft) tall.

In my future I could use how long the runway is because then I will know how much runway length an airplane needs to be able to take off.

On the tour, one of my favorite parts was going to the animal patrol office because I am an animal person. I loved it when I got to pet a Great Horned Owl with gold, yellowish and black eyes.

Today I accomplished going up into the control tower, which I was really looking forward to! Young Aviators helped me accomplish going up into the control tower by being an amazing group and building so many things. And then DIA gave us an opportunity to do a tour of DIA.

Today could have gone better if we had a snack time because I got so hungry! And allowed pictures in the control tower of the worlds top 3rd biggest airport. DIA is amazingly cool!
