

Young Aviator Update

June 2015

It's been a soggy month but every time there is a hint of good weather, we can hear the planes buzzing around Erie! Looking forward to glorious flying weather in June!

The Young Aviators and their families want to thank the Chapter 43 members for including us in the annual picnic! We appreciate being a part of your traditions. During the picnic, we got to hear a demo of the sound effects for the B25 gun. It sounds very realistic - and LOUD! We've already put in our request for warmer and drier weather next May.

The B25 continues to progress while other teams work to get the display and mission experience worked out. Many thanks to Jim Elliott and his team for the effort to make the B25 display an actual experience for kids and adults alike. Jim has devised a visitor plan that will take four crew members at a time through a simulation of an actual mission. Complete with volunteer training videos on the website, the education crew has done a phenomenal job with what has proved to be a huge commitment.

If you didn't have the chance to see it - Colorado Hometown Weekly featured the Young Aviators in an article this month. You can find the post on their home page - coloradahometownweekly.com and search for Young Aviators OR the link was added to the Young Eagles EAA Chapter 43 and the Young Aviators Facebook pages. There is a FB link at the top of our website. Youngaviators43.com

There are new DONATE via PAYPAL options on the YA website. As we make the rounds with the B25 and the simulators this summer, we hope to generate some financial support for our next project(s). Thanks Myles and Brian for helping get the details in order!

If you would like to receive the updates and reminders from the Young Aviators, please send your contact info to Andrea ea43youngaviators@gmail.com and request to be put on the list. It's only a few emails a month.
